Dear Michael:

Thank you.

I can't tell you how much your early support for our campaign means to me and to our efforts. Thanks to your support we will be able to open a campaign headquarters in February and begin a dialogue with San Franciscans about a new direction for our city.

San Francisco is ready for change. That's why I am offering a new approach that rises above ideology and focuses on solutions to our greatest challenges — helping homeless San Franciscans transition to stable jobs and permanent housing, finishing the task of restoring MUNI, jump starting our economy, and making sure all San Franciscans have access to quality health care.

Already, a broad base of San Franciscans from every corner of our city has joined our team. The energy and commitment of our supporters is overwhelming and gives me confidence that we will mount the strongest campaign and win in 2003.

Thanks again for your friendship and for being among the very first to join our campaign. I will never forget your help.

With warmest regards,

Gavin Newsom

Thank you!
